Kylar joined Redstone in October of 2022 to work alongside our development team. After completing her Bachelor's Degree at the University of Nevada, Las Vegas, where she studied Anthropology and Criminal Justice. Her long-time passion for Real Estate prompted her to leave her hometown of Las Vegas to pursue her career in the Sunshine State.

As an Administrative Assistant, Kylar is responsible for assisting the development team in all facets of Redstone Investments' platform with primary focus on Redstone's current developments, market research and site analysis in the early stages of project development.

In her free time, Kylar enjoys traveling, trying new restaurants or recipes, and spending time with friends.
